There Be Dragons

SourceGroup believes (in common with modern Chinese culture), that thinking beyond one's perceived boundaries open new doors of opportunity for the Charity and its clients.

With this in mind, SourceGroup presents the concept of There Be Dragons (Slaying the dragons of the Recession) in a three hour intensive brainstorming session to envision the future, re-focus on your Mission and activate your supporters to position the Organization to face these challenging times.

There Be Dragons is most successful when combined with SourceGroup's Reality Check and Day with the Devil's Advocate programs over a short and realistic timetable.

There Be Dragons is best facilitated in a retreat setting such as a corporate or hotel setting at the weekend and usually in the morning.

There Be Dragons delivers a fresh perspective on your goals, priorities and objectives. SourceGroup provides the facilitation of the group interaction as well as a written report encapsulating the groups' ideas.

Fees are customized to fit your particular needs and this Workshop concept can attract funder support.
